Drawing on recently declassified archives, Sir Dermot will present his new book which tells in full - for the first time in English - the real story of how Enigma was broken.

'X, Y & Z' describes how French, British and Polish secret services came together to unravel the Enigma machine. It tells of how, under the very noses of the Germans, Enigma code-breaking continued in Vichy France. And how code-breakers from Poland continued their work for Her Majesty's Secret Service, watching the USSR's first steps of the Cold War.

Makura says:

“ I travel a lot and over the years my fear of turbulence hasn't so much lessened as focused my mind on making sure I live a full life with no regrets. These days, I have a sense of calm during rough flights, because I feel I have ticked off many things on my life's bucket list. It doesn't mean I don't have any new ambitious, it means, as of this moment, I am content with where I am with them. It means not procrastinating. ”
